DECISION MAKING STRATEGIST

One Move That Matters®

Give Your Audience the Lightbulb Moment That Sparks Great Decisions

Lisa Robbin Young brings fresh perspective and practical tools to rooms where smart people are making serious decisions. Your audience leaves with new ideas about what's possible and a better way to think about what comes next.

With more than 30 years of business experience, plus the instincts of a lifelong performer, pattern finder, and dot connector, Lisa knows how to read a room. She's entertaining and knows how to bring an abstract idea to life at the same time. Every talk with Lisa gives your audience something they can actually use long after they walk out the conference room doors.

TRUSTED BY:

ONE MOVE THAT MATTERS® - AUDIENCE TAKEAWAYS

- A memorable way to spot the patterns that undermine good decisions
- A clearer understanding of why capable organizations get stuck even when everyone is working hard
- A practical way to identify where momentum breaks down
- A fresh sense of possibility about what can change when people stop trying to do everything and start focusing on what matters now

Your leaders will learn how to identify the move that fits the moment, instead of adding more activity, more complexity, or more pressure to their already overloaded teams.

DELIVERING A GREAT KEYNOTE IS ONLY PART OF THE JOB

Lisa comes prepared. She asks good questions. She learns what matters to your audience and adapts examples to fit your room. She's not bringing a generic motivational speech with your logo pasted onto it. Lisa respects your schedule, the people behind the scenes, and the trust you place in her when you hand her the microphone.

The goal is simple: Deliver something meaningful for your audience, useful for your organization, and make you glad you brought Lisa in.
